

Lindfield Learning Village

Lindfield, New South Wales

Lindfield Learning Village is a newly developed co-educational, comprehensive school catering for students from kindergarten through to Year 12, with a capacity of 350 students. The school is located in the lush Lindfield bushlands in the north of Sydney, occupying the former University of Technology Sydney (UTS). The NSW Government invested $40 million in the refurbishment project to take the pressure off nearby schools and cater to the growth of students in the upper north shore of Sydney.
